To view your current ranking visit the eligible list disclosure web page. Do not call the State Personnel Board (SPB) to obtain information on your ranking. The SPB is unable to tell candidates their exact rank on the list. It is important to note that your ranking may change daily. This is due, in large part, to the examination being administered on a continuous basis with candidates being regularly added to and removed from the list. Ranking also changes as a result of individuals being hired from the list, being placed inactive on the list, transferring on or off the list, and candidates' tenure/timebase and location preferences.

The State Personnel Board is not required to contact all candidates who are reachable for every vacancy; therefore, candidates are encouraged to search for Systems Software Specialist 1 vacancies.

It is critical that you keep your contact information (address and phone number) and location preferences up to date. You may update your contact information and location preferences here.

Hiring departments must verify that you are reachable on the eligible list and that you meet Minimum Qualifications for the Systems Software Specialist 1 classification before extending an offer of employment.

Any competitor who wishes to file an appeal must do so within 30 days of the posting of his/her exam results. The appeal must be in writing, must specify the facts, and must include a copy of this notice. The four grounds for appealing an exam result are: Discrimination, Fraud, Erroneous interpretation or application of Minimum Qualifications, and Significant irregularity. For more information, visit the Appeals website. The appeal must be sent to: Appeals Division, State Personnel Board, 801 Capitol Mall, Sacramento, CA 95814-4806.
